NEWS RELEASE

Subject: Announcing the Hiring of Council Public Relations Interns

Date: Tuesday, June 17, 2019

From: Tim Scott, Council President

Contact: 574-538-1936

Announcing the Hiring of Council Public Relations Interns

The Common Council has hired four new Public Relations interns for the 2019 summer season.

Morgan Gonsoski is a junior at Ball State University where she is majoring in public relations. Her areas of experience include copywriting, social media management, blog writing, graphic design, event management, and web design.

Ryan Wroblewski is a junior at Indiana University where he is majoring in advertising with a minor in marketing. His areas of experience include social media management and analytics and digital advertising.

Shanita Hunt is a sophomore at Indiana University where she is majoring in apparel merchandising with a minor in entrepreneurship. Her areas of experience include photography, social media management, customer service, and interpersonal communications.

David Moses is a senior at the University of Notre Dame where he is majoring in history with a double minor in business economics and computing and digital technologies. His areas of experience include customer service, research, technical writing, administration, and cyber security.

As the Council's Public Relations Interns, their job duties will include assisting Common Council members and the City Clerk's office with communications, public relations, social media, and specialized research projects, as well as providing administrative support to Council Members and the City Clerk regarding their communication with the public.

"We are so excited to welcome these four to the City," said Council President Tim Scott. "Their range of experience and unique qualifications in various fields will be a valuable tool to the Council in communicating more effectively with the residents of South Bend."

The Public Relations Intern positions are full-time positions.
